SEPTEMBER 2009

KANSAS STAMPEDE

The rally masters, Russ & Judy Haley, Jim & Nancy Harris and Bob & Jan Erickson met everyone upon arrival with rally bags with lots of local info. Included was also a puzzle in a bottle. I found everything except the penny and would swear there wasn't one in there until I dumped out the contents and there it was. This was surely for the birds, but everyone had fun with it.

Tuesday night everyone got together for a meet & greet. We were treated to great margaritas and lots of appetizers.

Wednesday morning started with an excellent breakfast which was only the beginning of some great food. Lots of the attendees went to the Salt Mine or shopping and relaxing. In the afternoon the rally masters hosted an ice cream social with lots of delicious toppings and trays of homemade cookies. The ladies outdid themselves. After dinner we were treated to songs by W.C. Edgar. Everyone had so much fun that Jim Harris had to cut him off or they would still be there at breakfast.

On Thursday some of the ladies went to Apron Strings for lunch and a cooking demonstration. The lunch was yummy and the demo was fun. The store was a cook's wonderland. Some others stayed and played dice games with Jan. The nightly entertainment was comedian Conrad Courtney. He was really funny and interacted with the audience.

Friday morning was golf day and it was cold and very windy. The golfers are a hearty group and went off to the greens. The second half of the ladies went to Apron Strings and others played dice games. Others took the Salt Mine tour without knowing you went 650 feet down in a pitch black elevator. However after down in the mine it was really very interesting. It is dry and cool and there are a lot of companies who store documents in the mine. Hollywood has films and movie wardrobes stored there for the perfect climate control. Bunko was the nightly entertainment and 1st place winners were Keith & Debbie Taylor, 2nd place winners were Don & Sally Richmond and 3rd place was Joe Namaksy & Ken Williams. There were great prizes ranging from $50 Flying J cards to deck chairs.

Saturday morning after the business meeting some went to the car show downtown and Kay Williams entered his SSR in the show. The weather was the best of the rally. The evening entertainment was DJ Steve Walsh. He started with a TV theme song trivia game and the fun continued from there with lots of dancing also.

Sunday morning was for goodbyes.
